

Distance Learning Professional Development Collaboration Opportunities:

Networking Opportunities

The intent of these Distance Learning opportunities is to create an environment that will allow teachers from different school districts to share 21st Century Skills by exposing them to Learning and Innovation as identified essentials to prepare our students for the future. Creativity, Innovation, and Intellectual curiosity will help develop, implement, and communicate new ideas to those outside of their school district. Teachers and teaching assistants will be able to share lessons and projects that have been successful in the classroom. The Distance Learning environment will help create a network beyond the individual districts boundaries. It is strongly encouraged for districts with a DL classroom to invite neighboring districts that currently do not have one. The program encourages teachers to continue to communicate after their initial DL session via e-mail or video conferencing.
